Coverit's TECHNICAL area is also worth a mention as it is part of the historical baggage that lead to its' references: The technical office of Coverit uses highly only specialized consultants who are able to deal professionally with any issues that may arise during works and provide the best solutions oriented towards the functionality of the job.

Of course we cannot forget the most, important part of our work, namely: Consultancy, assistance and maintenance.

"Fundamental components because we know that a satisfied customer will continue to work with us".
